With a news cycle dominated by stories about tariffs, whether imposed or threatened, we hear a lot about the macro impact on the economy. What is less clear is how the turmoil is influencing daily business operations as well as middle market M&A activity.

Our panel will examine these issues from both an operator and corporate advisor perspective, giving attendees a 360-degree view of the current and mid-term impact of the uncertain tariff environment.

Besides the great content we are serving up, your ticket includes hearty hors d'oeuvres, wine, and robust networking – both before and after the panel. Don't let this train leave the station without you. Register TODAY!
