Rising Stars Event Overview

The ACG Denver Young Professionals Rising Stars event celebrates emerging leaders in Colorado's middle-market community, bringing together rising talent and established executives for an evening of recognition, insight, and high-impact networking. The program highlights standout professionals while fostering meaningful connections across the deal-making ecosystem.

Sponsoring Rising Stars provides direct access to future decision-makers and positions your firm alongside leadership, growth, and professional development. ACG Denver's curated audience ensures valuable engagement with both emerging leaders and experienced industry professionals.

Sponsors gain strong visibility through event marketing, on-site branding, and post-event communications - enhancing brand recognition, strengthening market presence, and demonstrating a commitment to supporting the next generation of talent.

Rising Stars is more than a sponsorship - it's an opportunity to invest in the people and relationships driving the future of Colorado's middle market. Contact Kynnie Martin, Executive Director at kmartin@acg.org.
