Doug Holtrop is a Senior Vice President at Mercantile Bank of Michigan. In his current role as a Commercial Loan Manager, Doug leads a team of commercial lenders working with manufacturing, distributing, as well as other service related clients. His role in a family owned business prior to his banking career has provided him an inside perspective on the dynamics of locally owned businesses.

As one of the first commercial bankers in Michigan to become a Certified Merger and Acquisition Advisor and a member of the Michigan Business Brokers Association's Board of Directors, Doug has assisted many clients with financing for business acquisitions and transitions of ownership.

Doug also has extensive experience in all phases of commercial real estate, including new construction, development, redevelopment, contractor/trade financing and investment ownership.
