

Dave Saoud

Dave is the Co-Founder/CEO of FreezPak Logistics, a 3rd party food logistics company that offers a variety of services from transportation to temperature-controlled solutions. His vision and dedication have shaped the company into a leading third-party food logistics provider.

Dave's journey began with academic excellence, graduating cum laude from Seton Hall University with a business management degree. Leveraging this knowledge, he co-founded FreezPak Logistics in 2001 alongside his brother Mike Saoud.

Today, Dave plays a multifaceted role within FreezPak. He oversees the strategic direction of sales operations and transportation, ensuring efficient customer service and product movement. His commitment goes beyond everyday tasks; Dave champions the enhancement of end-to-end business solutions for FreezPak's clients, tailoring services to their specific needs.

Furthermore, Dave's influence extends to the physical landscape of FreezPak. He directs the site selection, design of company buildings, ensuring functionality and supporting future growth. This focus on strategic expansion reflects Dave's commitment to fostering the FreezPak brand as a leader in the food logistics industry.
