

Ari Raivetz
CEO
Organica Water, Inc.

Ari has nearly 20 years of experience in finance, corporate strategy, marketing, and public and private equity investing. Since 2011 Ari has been Chairman and CEO of Organica Water, a global provider of innovative biological wastewater treatment solutions which has ignited a “localized” wastewater treatment movement throughout Asia.

Organica’s path to success has been rooted in one of the top management teams in the industry, and an innovative business model which leverages win-win partnerships with EPC/BOT companies and engineering automation to scale the business.

Previously Ari was Head of Water Private Equity Investments for RNK Capital, a pioneering environmental investment firm with ~$800M in assets under management. In this role Ari lead a team responsible for transaction sourcing, due-diligence, structuring, and working with portfolio companies’ management teams. Ari served as Chairman of the Board of Organica (2008-2011) and has served on the Board of various other RNK portfolio companies in the water sector. Prior to RNK, Ari worked at Bank of America Securities, most recently as a VP and Senior Research Analyst, covering the Exploration & Production, Oil Refining, and Bulk Shipping sectors. Previously, Ari spent four years working in corporate strategy, finance, and marketing roles at two venture-backed enterprise software companies, Verticalnet and Prescient Systems, and as the co-founder of his own company, a technology services business that enabled small retailers to sell their products to students through the Internet.

Ari holds a bachelor of business administration degree from the George Washington University and an MBA degree from Yale University’s School of Management.
