

Michael S. Zedalis
President & Chief Operating Officer
Tingley Rubber Corporation

Mike was born and raised in Hillsborough, NJ and attended Lafayette College where he received a BS in Metallurgical Engineering. Mike then pursued master's & PhD degrees from Northwestern University in the field of Materials Science & Engineer. He began his professional career working for Allied Signal / Honeywell International where he held various positions in their Corporate Technology division supporting various automotive, aerospace & engineered materials business units. While at Allied, Mike also attended Stevens Institute of Technology where he received a master's degree in Technology Management.

In early 2001, Mike took a position with Scient Corporation (NYC) where his career focused on the development and application of eBusiness strategies primarily for fortune 500 companies. In 2003 Mike joined Ansell Healthcare as their Chief Technology Officer, and Head of Regulatory & Quality Affairs. In 2014, Mike accepted the position of President and Chief Operating Officer for Tingley Rubber Corporation.

Mike has published extensive and currently holds 32 US patents. Mike and his family live in Mendham, NJ.