

DYLAN COX

Analyst II

PitchBook

Dylan is currently an Analyst II at PitchBook Data, a Seattle-based private markets research firm that was acquired by Morningstar in 2016. He leads PitchBook's coverage of private equity fundraising and M&A, as well as contributes to broader research initiatives. His work has been featured in the Wall Street Journal, CNBC, and the Financial Times, among others. Prior to joining PitchBook, Dylan served as an analyst at Core Capital, a real estate investment fund based in California. He holds a BA in economics and BS in business administration from Chapman University.
